6.1.2 Empowering faculty centred practices:

The faculties of the institute are regarded as the living assets. They are given the freedom to carry out and organize various programmes in upliftment of the students and the college. The hierarchy allows the Head of Departments to empower the faculty members to participate in activities organised by other organisations. They are encouraged to develop skills in themselves as well as students through curricular and non-curricular activities.

The faculties arrange expert series lectures, industrial visits, guest lectures relevant to the courses taken by them. The MOU signed with various industries allows the faculties to call upon various industrial experts to organise seminars, workshops and conferences. The faculties are encouraged to attend various FDPs and workshops to sharpen their skills and knowledge.

Empowering students centred practices:

Students at the institute have always been supported and provided guidance and assistance related to

- Entrepreneurship
- Higher Studies
- Competitive Exams
- Placement
- Career Planning

Apart from this they have been a part of decision-making bodies of IQAC where they are given a platform to recognise their skills and involve in intellectual thinking process and are always appreciated for the same.
